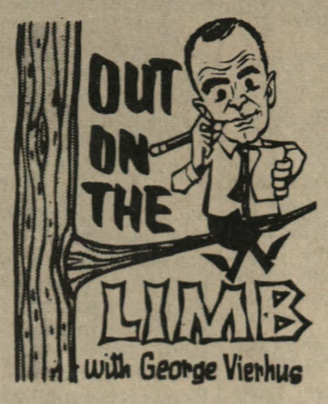
Campbell voters made local (and state) history on Tuesday by electing Rusty Hammer, an 18-year old Santa Clara University student to a four-year term on the City Council.

Elected along with Hammer was Norm Paul, a member of the Planning Commission, and Dean Chamberlin, incumbent councilman seeking his second term.

Paul, who was named "citizen of the year" for 1971, led with 1496 votes, just 24 votes ahead of Chamberlin with 1472, who nosed out Hammer who collected 1471 votes. Bill Smeed, incumbent councilman seeking his third term received 1207.

The turnout of voters was higher than anticipated with 2130 casting ballots, or 23.9%.

Hammer, a member of the Youth Commission since its inception and its first chairman, has long taken an active part in civic affairs. He was voting in his first city election. Although he will be 19 next month, he probably will be the youngest city councilman in the state.



THIS WEEK WE RE-ceived a summary from the information officer of the California Air Resources Board dealing with the board's "Implementation Plan for Achieving and Maintaining Ambient Air Standards."

According to the covering letter, the information in the summary is concise and precise. It was hoped that we will keep it for future reference.

It was also suggested that the summary might also be the basis of a feature story by one of our environmental writers.

We think that it is a great idea.

We have called a conference of all of our environmental writers and maybe we can come up with something.

In the meantime, we have filed the summary.

We had a problem finding room for it.

But we are glad we just received the summary.

The original report, we understand, is two inches thick, weighs five and a half pounds and sells for $15.

Now that WOULD be a problem.

MANY TIMES IN THE past we have told you what people do to our name, either pronouncing it or spelling it.

Really it has never given us a tough time. As long as we can remember, we have managed to pronounce it and spell it without any problem.

We concede, however, that "Vierhus" sounds and looks more complicated than "Smith" or "Jones."

Then, of course, our handwriting doesn't help matters to any great degree.

So we suppose there is some excuse when someone makes something new and different out of our signature.

As a case in point, recently we received a note from one of the agencies that handle some of the insurance at our joint.

The note was directed to: "Attention Mr. Vier Mus."

Oh well.

As soon as ol' Mus comes in, we will give him the message.

CAMPBELL'S FIRST ANnual Easter Parade is now history, of course, and it was a highly successful venture.

As we have pointed out on numerous occasions, there is a tremendous amount of work involved in presenting a parade.

And getting Campbell's first such event off the ground in the short space of time that was allotted in the planning and organizing was a major achievement in itself.

Just building one float is quite an undertaking.

For example, take the float that was entered by the Assembly of God church under the guidance of the Rev. Herb Johnson, pastor.

The float, incidentally, won the trophy for the best presentation of the parade theme, "The Joy of Easter". It depicted the empty tomb and cross with the words, "Christ is Risen" along the side of the float.

Rev. Herb and his gang did an excellent job and their efforts gave the parade the touch of dignity that the event needed.

Those of you who might be thinking of entering a float next year possibly could be interested in what it takes (outside of the man hours) to build such an entry.

Herb reported to us that 60 packages of crepe paper were used, 200 feet of 8-inch lineal steel and that 600 square feet of wire was covered with crepe paper.

We think their efforts were worth it.

Don't you?

HONORED COUPLE—Fire Chief and Mrs. George Maxwell were honored guests at a retirement dinner last Friday at the Los Gatos Elks Club when more than 200 people gathered to honor the couple who are leaving this month for Anchorage, Alaska, where Maxwell has accepted the position of Director of Public Safety.

Chief Maxwell, who was presented with numerous awards at the dinner also received a gift of a hunting gun from his many friends and well-wishers. Maxwell has been fire chief of Campbell for almost 14 years and has more than 25 years of fire service to his credit. Fire Marshal Gene Borden has been named acting chief until a permanent appointment is made. ---Photo by Dave Cohen

CIVIC IMPROVEMENT

Council adopts ordinance setting up new commission

A last-minute attempt by Vice-Mayor Bill Podgorsek to re-insert the ex-officio membership section in the city ordinance establishing the Civic Improvement Commission failed to make headway Monday night at the City Council meeting.

The ordinance was given its final reading (adoption) without the ex-officio bit.

In the original draft of the ordinance, it was specified that, in addition to the seven-member commission there were to be three ex-officio members, one from each of the other three city commissions; parks and recreation, planning and youth.

However, as a result of a study session, the Council decided to remove the ex-officio section.

Councilman Ed Rogers argued that it could be added at a later date, if it was found to be necessary. "It's easier to add than to subtract," Rogers submitted.

On Monday night, Podgorsek received no tangible support from his fellow councilmen on his suggestion to put the section back in.

In other actions on Monday night, the Council:

AUTHORIZED the calling for new bids for a programmable calculator for the engineering department. (All previous bids had been rejected.)

APPROVED the formation of a Local Improvement District (LID No. 22) for Virginia Avenue from Campbell Avenue to Bucknall.

APPROVED the parcel map for California Savings and Loan at Bascom and Campbell avenues, combining two parcels.

GRANTED an extension of one year to Lowell Grattan for the development schedule of property at Hamilton and Llewellyn.

ACCEPTED the final improvements of LID No. 21 for Catalpa, El Caminito, etc.

CONFIRMED the appointment of Bill Wren, public works director, as city manager pro-tem.

APPROVED plans for Federal Department Stores at Salmar and Hamilton.

APPROVED a 10-foot sidewalk for the Shell Station being remodeled at 570 E. Hamilton.

APPROVED by resolution an amendment to the Public Employees Retirement System allowing public safety employees to retire at age 50.

ADOPTED by resolutions, certificates of service for retiring Councilman Ed Rogers and retiring Fire Chief George Maxwell.

HEARD a report from Myron Alexander, Rotary president, aided by slides on the recent trip to Texas where the old city fire truck was driven that is being donated to the Madero (Mexico) fire department

AFTER 12 YEARS OF SERVICE

Dinner this Friday honors retiring Councilman Rogers

Dr. Edward J. Rogers, 57, who is retiring as a city councilman after having served longer in that position than any other person in the 20-year history of this city, will be honored this Friday, April 14, at a retirement dinner at Zorba's, 1350 S. Bascom.

This month Rogers completed 12 years (three terms) of service as a city father. He did not seek reelection to the office to which he was elected for the first time in 1960.

The dinner will be hosted by civic leaders and former associates of Rogers on the City Council. Mrs. Jeanette

TWO PERMITS TOP $4 MILLION

Building soars past $5 million for year

Campbell's building "slump" lasted only for two months this year.

In March the local building permit parade took a $5.8 million surge (with four commercial buildings accounting for $4.4 million of the total) to send the three-month total more than $1.3 million ahead of the same period last year, according to Wally Byron, city building official.

Permits for a 10-story office building, a furniture store, a bank and a car wash were the four commercial permits issued in March to make that month one of the highest on record for the city.

For the first two months this year, only $789,630 in building permits had been issued as compared to more than $4 million for the same two months the vear before.

But in March it was a different story.

Heading the list was the permit issued to Fred Sahadi and Pittsburgh–Des Moines Steel for the 10-story office building in the PruneYard adjacent to Campbell's landmark, the 18-story "The Towers".

The permit for the 10-story structure was for $2,425,860.

The other million-dollar-plus job was issued to Federated Department Stores for the huge furniture outlet that is planned at 600 E. Hamilton. That permit was for $1,829,000.

A building permit for a branch of the California Canadian Bank was issued to H.L. Bryan, developer of the San Tomas Plaza Center at Campbell Ave. and San Tomas Rd. The permit was for $88,200.

The car wash building permit for $80,316 was issued to Frank Dorsa at 981 E. Hamilton.

The total for the month also included the building permit for the Seventh Day Adventist Church at 600 W. Campbell. The permit issued was for $152,972.

The month also featured another rarity, a single-family

UP 23% FROM 1970 IN CAMPBELL

Retail sales take big jump in fourth quarter

Retail sales in Campbell for the fourth quarter of 1971 shattered all previous records, reaching $18,876,000 or 23% better than the previous year, according to the figures released by the Board of Equalization.

The fourth quarter statewide, the report reveals, also exceeded all previous records for that period with an overall 13% gain, the largest year-to-year percentage increase statewide for any fourth quarter since 1955.

Taxable retail sales for the fourth period for California in 1971 reached $13 billion.

According to the quarterly report of the Board of Equalization, "Trade Outlets and Taxable Retail Sales in California", only five of the 15 cities in the county (San Jose $253,917,000) Santa Clara, $74,171,000; Palo Alto, $60,306; Mountain View, $56,369,000 and Sunnyvale, $48,728,000) topped Campbell's total.

Following Campbell were Cupertino ($17,829,000); Los Gatos ($17,359,000); Los Altos ($11,569,000); Milpitas ($9,538,000); Gilroy ($9,300,000); Saratoga ($4,124,000); Morgan Hill ($4,057,000); Los Altos Hills ($261,000).

Other than Milpitas, which showed a gain in sales in the 1971 fourth quarter of 48%, going from $6.4 million to $9.5 million, Campbell had the highest percentage of increase for the period in the county.

For the fourth quarter in 1970, taxable retail sales in Campbell totalled $15.3 million compared to the $18.8 million registered for the same period in 1971.

All categories in the retail sales breakdown for Campbell showed an increase in 1971 over 1970 except that of "general merchandise stores" which dropped from $897,000 to $844,000 for the period.

As usual "home furnishings" with $3.8 million was the major producer of taxable retail sales in Campbell, climbing more than $700,000 from the previous year.

"Building materials" was next with $2.5 million, up $500,000 from the year before.

In Los Gatos, as usual, "auto dealers and auto supplies" accounted for the major portion of that city's total sales of $17.3 million.

"Autos" in Los Gatos accounted for $7.8 million, an increase of $2.4 million over 1970.

The same category in Campbell lists $135,000 in sales for the fourth period in 1971.

The category "food stores" shows $1.7 million in Campbell for the fourth quarter compared to $1.3 million the previous year. (For the basis of the sales tax, food for home consumption is a nontaxable item as are prescriptions and gasoline.)

"Apparel stores" in Campbell showed a healthy increase going from $293,000 in 1970 to $701,000 in the fourth quarter of 1971.

"Eating and drinking places" accounted for $1.7 million in 1971 compared to $1.1 million in 1970 and "liquor stores" went from $596,000 in 1970 to $731,000 in 1971 in taxable sales.

"Drug stores" showed $520,000 as compared to $302,000 and "service stations" went from $246,000 in 1970 to $264,000 in 1971.

The category "other retail stores" jumped to $1.1 million in 1971 from $789,000 in the previous year while "all other outlets" went from $4.3 million in 1970 to $4.6 million in 1971.

No change

By an overwhelming vote, the citizens of Campbell, on Tuesday, decided that they wanted the office of City Treasurer to remain an elective one.

The vote was 622 to 1349.

Editorial

Good luck, George

This Friday, April 14, is Fire Chief George Maxwell's last official day as head of the Campbell Fire Department.

He is retiring after more than 25 years of fire service, with almost 14 of those years spent right here in Campbell.

Your editor wrote the news story for this paper on October 16, 1958, when the headline proclaimed: "First full time fire chief assumes duties November 1."

Your editor also wrote the news story for The Campbell Press of March 29, 1972, under the headline: "Chief Maxwell retires to take Alaska job."

There have been many changes in Campbell in the years that Chief Maxwell has headed the fire department.

The city has increased in population more than three times during those years and the fire department under Maxwell's guidance has kept pace with the growth.

The Campbell Fire Department has made an enviable record and has won nationwide recognition under Chief Maxwell.

Maxwell, of course, is not actually "retiring" in the complete sense. Certainly he will start drawing his retirement pay based on his 25 years of fire service but by no means is he going to loaf.

Campbell's loss will mean a gain for Anchorage, Alaska. On May 1, Maxwell becomes Director of Public Safety in that city.

We wish him well in his new assignment but he should take immeasurable pride in his achievement in this community.

In the interest of nostalgia, we quote from the news story in the October 16, 1958 issue of The Campbell Press:

"Campbell's first full-time paid fire chief will take over his duties here on November 1.

"The City Council last Thursday announced that George R. Maxwell, a captain in the fire department of Manhattan Beach near Los Angeles, had been appointed fire chief. The salary has been set at $478 per month.

"Maxwell's appointment came after both written and oral examinations had been given prospective applicants. The field of 18 applicants had been cut to four by the time the oral examination was given last Wednesday night before a board composed of fire chiefs from the county.

"The new chief marks a revolutionary step in the operation of Campbell's fire department, a volunteer-regular combination. There are three regularly employed firemen with Jack Scott, a long-time county employee, as part-time chief at $50 per month.

"The new chief was born in Battle Creek, Michigan, July 7, 1916. He has been a member of the Manhattan Beach fire department since 1948 and was promoted to captain in 1954....."

As we pointed out, it has been our privilege to have seen George Maxwell in operation from that day he took over as fire chief in 1958 to the present time.

He has given unstintingly of his time to his community. He is a dedicated professional and this community is better off because of his services.

The Campbell Fire Department has come a long, long way since that day in the fall of 1958 when George Maxwell became the first full-time fire chief.

And the advancement that the department has made has largely been the doings of Fire Chief Maxwell.

Campbell has been fortunate in having him around.

Good luck, George, in the far north.

Who votes?

As we write this editorial, we are taking a chance that we will be way off in our estimation of the turnout of voters in the city election on Tuesday.

This editorial is being written on the weekend, three days before the election.

We expect that something like 20% of the registered voters will have bothered to go to the polls.

That, of course, means that 80% of those eligible will not have shown enough interest in their city government to even cast a ballot.

We think that is shameful.

But, unfortunately, that is the way the ballot bounces.

No matter how much we rant and rave, this huge percentage of the voters stay away from the polls.

It is something, however, to keep in mind the next time you criticize a city action.

poem (?) that Betty Piper wrote shortly after people became interested in putting on Campbell's first Easter Parade.

Betty heads the Marquis Travel Service in the Campbell Plaza Shopping Center and is a newly-named director of the Campbell Chamber of Commerce. She also was assistant director of the first parade.

Len Edholm, manager of the CofC, is responsible for us having the poem of Betty's in our possession. He gave it to Sally with the following note:

"Sally—Betty Piper of Marquis Travel gave a report this week at the Chamber of Commerce board meeting as chairman of the special events. Part of her report was on the Easter Parade and ended with a poem she had written. Thought you might like a copy for The Campbell Press.. ....Len".

Well aware that followers of Longfellow, Emerson, Kilmer or Frost, might (with some reason) figure that we are stretching things a bit, we are presenting Betty's "poem."

There are two basic reasons for this: (1) it sort of tells the story of how fast things moved on the first Easter Parade and (2) we have had it in our files for quite a spell and we felt we should do something with it.

BETTY'S POEM—
(without editorial comment)

"Was the 8th day of February—the telephone rang— a meeting, a meeting, then Chamber of Commerce chairman would reign.

"A parade, a parade! Len had said.

"What better theme than an "Easter Parade."

"The chairmen were chosen, with Jim at the helm, the committees assigned to cover the realm.

"The Council, The Council would they approve?

"Would Don Burr and his men fit in the groove?

"They did! They did! Without too much fight, we got our approval that Monday nite.

"All throttles are open, all goals are the same—

"All committees are working to boost Campbell's fame.

"Deadlines to meet, George said he'd wait—

"The Campbell Press has come to our aid.

"The entries are Great! It is no charade.

"Please ! !

"Don't let it rain on our Easter Parade.....

---betty"

NOW DON'T GET UPSET.

The iambec pentameter and all that sort of stuff may be missing in Betty's effort.

But the thoughts were there.

It was a good parade.

And it didn't rain, although it sorta tried.

By the way, Betty Piper this past week was appointed one of the directors-at-large for the Chamber of Commerce.

Arise all ye poets, there is hope yet.

IN NOTING THAT VICE-Mayor Bill Podgorsek and Jeanette Watson were going to run things at the retirement dinners for Fire Chief George Maxwell and Councilman Ed Rogers on respective Friday nights, we were somewhat cautious on our approach.

We called 'em both "MC's."

We didn't spell it out.

Obviously a person at the mike at one of those affairs is "master-of-ceremonies."

Except of course, if the person happens to be a gal.

Then, we suppose, it should be "mistress-of-ceremonies".

But it becomes a wee bit involved when one lumps them together in the same story.

So that's why we went the "MC" bit with Bill and Jeanette.

Of course, that is close to this women's lib deal and the use of "Ms" to cover either the married or the single variety of the female of the species.

So Ms. was MC.

And Mr. was MC.

That should be fair enough.

Only one permit was issued for multiples during the month, But it was a "biggie". J.R. Barrow received a permit for a 71-unit apartment comlex at 157 Union Ave. for $402,292.

During March also there were six permits for swimming pools totalling $21,400 and five sign permits for $1,-700.

Alterations and additions totalled $53,705 in March, including a $27,547 addition for Value Realty Co., at 1374 E. Hamilton.

Hearing features 'McGlincey'

Campbell planning commissioners will hold the last of the series of public hearings on the general plan tonight (Wednesday) in the council chambers at the city hall. The "McGlincey Neighborhood Area" will be the specific section that will be under discussion at the hearing which is scheduled for 7:30 p.m.

The hearing tonight will be the eighth that the Planning Commission has held on specific areas affected by the general plan. In most instances the hearings were held in the area that was under discussion.

The "McGlincey Neighborhood" lies east of Highway 17 extending to Bascom and between Campbell and Curtner avenues both in and outside the city limits and includes the White Oaks area and extends to Cambrian Park.

The Planning Commission plans to review the results of all the hearings and possibly recommend changes in the general plan.

Dinner

Watson will handle the MC chores for the affair.

Social hour is scheduled for 7 p.m. with dinner at 8 p.m.

Dr. Rogers is a political science professor at San Jose State and has been on the college faculty since 1948. He served in the U.S. Army during World War II and holds the Purple Heart medal for wounds received in the invasion of Leyte and the Bronze Star medal for combat action.

He left the service with the rank of major.

Rogers was born on a ranch in the San Joaquin Valley and was graduated from Tulare High School. Prior to World War II he had received his bachelor's degree from San Jose State. After his army stint he did his graduate work at Stanford where he met and married his wife, Madeline. He received his Ph.D. in Hispanic American Studies.

The Rogers, who have resided at 150 Branbury Drive since 1957, have three sons, Edward, Jr., Perry and Howard.

In 1960, Rogers ,virtually an unknown at the time, was elected along with Henry (Whitey) Weitzel and Pete Lico. Nine candidates sought election for the three seats.

The 1960 Council was composed of Dick Mayne, the late Jack Chappell, Weitzel, Lico and Rogers. Weitzel was mayor.

Rogers has served one term as mayor and twice as vice-mayor. During his 12 years on the City Council, there have been eight different mayors (including himself) who have wielded the gavel from the mayor's chair.

These include Weitzel, Lico, Charles Rose, Ralph Doetsch (twice) Bill Smeed, Homer Hyde and Dean Chamberlin.

In the 1964 election, Rogers was reelected along with Rose and Smeed and in the 1968 voting, Smeed and Chamberlin were elected with him.

Rogers has served president of the Inter-City Council, a body made up of representatives from all the cities in the county and has been a member of the executive committee of the Association of Bay Area Governments (ABAG).

During his 12 years on the City Council, he has seen many changes take place in the city, including the establishment of the city manager-council form of government and the construction of the civic center. During the 12 years, also, the population of the city has gone from 8,000 to more than 25,000.

Rogers has taken a leading role in the beautification program of the city and has been a long-time booster in the planting of trees and has pushed the development of a city park program.

Rogers has emphasized during the last few months that he intends to keep active in civic affairs of his community.

CofC board appoints directors

Directors of Campbell Chamber of Commerce at their last meeting named four new directors-at-large who will serve for a year's term and named Jerry H. Schutz, administrator of the Campbell Community Hospital, to fill a vacancy on the regular board.

Schutz takes the place of Dale Peterson, of Stevens Fabrics, who has been transferred.

Named as directors-at-large were Betty Piper, of Marquis Travel, who presently is chairman of community relations and special events; Jim Hardy, president of West Valley College; Norman Johnson of De-Luxe Check Printers and Dan Knowles, of General Business Services and who is also serving as chairman of the retail committee of the CofC.

Herfy's plans come before planners again on Monday

Interested residents from La Pradera Drive in Campbell are expected to be on hand again at the Planning Commission meeting next Monday, April 17, when the plans for a new Herfy's restaurant at 1651 W. Campbell Ave. will be reviewed by the Commission.

Action on the plans was deferred at the last meeting to allow time to study the ingress and egress plans for the proposed eatery. The residents on La Pradera objected to having traffic from the restaurant dumped on their residential street.

However, a motion to eliminate all driveways from La Pradera was defeated on a 4-3 vote. The commissioners are also concerned about the heavy traffic on Campbell Avenue at the location.

J. P. Clark and Fred Re-Horn, who have vainly tried in the past to get approval of a youth recreational center and recording studio at 1065 Florence Way, have submitted a new application. They are seeking a use permit for a private club for rental to business groups and women's clubs.

The hearing on the proposed prezoning of property that is being annexed to Campbell on East Campbell Avenue, Duncanville Court and North Union Avenue, is also scheduled for next Monday. It had been continued from the last meeting to allow one of the property owners affected more time to study the proposal.

Plans for another warehouse/office on Dillon Avenue in a P-D zone have been submitted to the Commission for approval by Jack Trimble. The property is at 75 and 81 Dillon Avenue.

E. R. Nolen is also seeking a use permit to construct a single-family residence at 313 Grant Ave. in the Civic Center zoning district.

The Commission is also scheduled to take up again the proposed plans for a warehouse at 559 McGlincey Lane submitted by Oliver Nelson.

Board meets on Thursday

Trustees of the Campbell Union (elementary) School Board will meet this Thursday, April 13, at 7 p.m. in the administration office, but no action is expected to be taken on any future tax increase election at the meeting.

Discussion on the tax matter, however, might be set for the next meeting of the board on Thursday, April 27.

Superintendent Jim D'Avis next Thursday will report on the pending unification election that will take place on June 6, as prescribed by state law.

On May 15 a public hearing will be held on the unification issue. The proposed unified district would be composed of all the elementary districts that make up the Campbell Union High School District.

JAZZ

The exciting jazz sounds of Cal Tjader are scheduled to engulf the Old Town Theater in Los Gatos for two nights, Wednesday and Thursday, April 19 and 20.

There will be two shows each night.

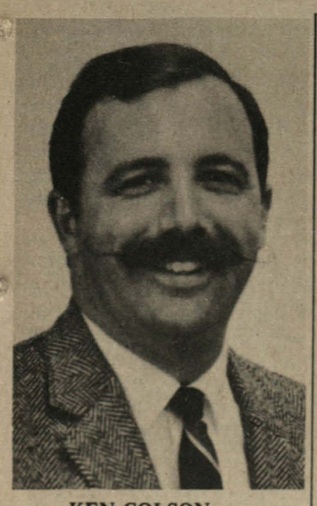
Colson searches Indian's past



KEN COLSON

Ken Colson, anthropology teacher at West Valley College, was granted a fellowship from the National Endowment for the Humanities to study the culture of the prehistoric Coastanoan Indians of Santa Clara Valley.

This summer Colson will begin to pierce the past, searching for the Indians' sites and preserving artifacts from their culture.

As he continues the study during a year-long leave of absence from the college, Colson hopes to construct a historical picture of the Indians, then use that data to teach his students respect for alien cultures and man's past.

The 33-year-old instructor, who holds a B.A. degree from the University of California at Berkeley and a master's from San Francisco State, began teaching anthropology in 1966.

Any person with knowledge of the Coastanoans is encouraged to contact Colson at 857-2200, since community help will do much to further the study.

TO PRESENT CONCERT--- Crandall Brothers Quartet of San Jose, well-known on the west coast for their versatility in presenting gospel music, will present a concert of gospel music at the Assembly of God Church, 1870 Winchester Blvd., Campbell, this Sunday, April 16, at 7:30 p.m. Herbert Johnson, pastor of the church, invites the public to hear this group. There will be no admission charge.

The Crandall Brothers Quartet has been featured on radio and television throughout California and have made many personal appearances and are also popular recording artists.

Health Confab scheduled for Capri School

Capri School, 850 Chapman Drive, will be the setting for a Community Conference conducted by the Mental Health Commission of the Comprehensive Health Planning Association on Thursday evening, April 20 at 7 p.m.

Dr. Maurice Rappaport, chairman of the Mental Health Commission, has stated that the Commission needs to have widespread community understanding of and reaction to recommendations to be made due to change in plans with regards to the closing of Agnews Hospital.

The staff of the West Valley Mental Health Center, directed by Dr. Gail Frankel and Harold Arrowood are inviting area residents served by the center to be present to ask questions regarding the future plans for mental health service.

The Community Conferences are, according to Rappaport, being coordinated throughout the county local chapters of the American Association of University Women. The local Conference is being coordinated by the Los Gatos-Saratoga Branch of the American Association of University Women, with Lucia Callis of Los Gatos making arrangements.

Campbellite is aviation grad

Paul G. Eades, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester B. Eades, 1032 Audrey Ave., was graduated from Northrop Institute of Technology school of aviation maintenance in Inglewood, California.

The 1964 Campbell High graduate was awarded a certificate of completion in the airframe and powerplant curriculum.

He is now eligible to take the Federal Aviation Administration examinations for the airframe and powerplant certificate.

Camp Fire Girls

by Ellie Rumbaugh

The Eluta Aya Camp Fire Girls from San Tomas School were active participants in the 1st Annual Campbell Easter Parade.

The girls made the artificial flowers for the Camp Fire Car and for the Camp Fire and Boy Scout symbols which were a part of the San Tomas School float "Joys of Youth," which won the Director's Trophy for originality.

Martha Hernandez, Kelly Wilkins, Karen Becker, Rebecca Gandy, Rebecca Stone, Diane Larson, Kelly Cornett, Maggie Cabrera, Kathy Latus, Karen Jain, and Barbara Jain, rode in the Camp Fire Car.

Sabine Mainka, Lisa Kizer, and Denise Helton helped to make flowers and Tammy Barnes was the Blue Bird on the school float. San Tomas School leaders are Mrs. Jerry Helton, Mrs. Mainka, Mrs. Uhler, and Mrs. Horbach. Coordinator is Mrs. Carl Larson.

The girls had a good time, and they want to thank the City of Campbell for giving them the opportunity to join together with the community in celebrating the Joy of the Easter season.

GIRL SCOUT News

NEIGHBORHOOD 15
TROOP 827

Brownies of Troop 827 have had a very full schedule during this school year. After completing a service project for Head Start, they went on an ecology hike and filled a 40-gallon plastic garbage bag with debris in less than six blocks. It took four girls to carry it home!

Craft projects the troop has been doing include making sand castles, candy dishes from baby food jars, trivets made with French knitting, a garden planted in colored egg shells.

Some have made owls from pinecones and fashioned a landscape using pinecones, redwood chips, feathers and dried flowers.

For cooking projects the girls have made fudge and served a bunny rabbit salad made from pears, bananas, cloves and marshmallows.

The troop participated in the recent Scouts-in-Action day at the Westgate mall and the Easter Parade.

CIRCUS

Plans are being finalized to go to the Kiwanis Circus in Santa Clara in April, a picnic and the father-daughter dinner in May. They will also enjoy tours of KLOK radio station and McDonald's Restaurant.

During the summer months girls from the troop will attend Brownie Day Camp at various locations in the San Jose and Stevens Creek areas.

Leaders of this troop are Mrs. Dan Barry and Mrs. James Robb; the troop is affiliated with Hazelwood School.

EASTER PARADE

Directing the Girl Scout unit from Neighborhood 15 was Mrs. Richard McCullough, neighborhood chairman. The flags were carried by girls from Junior Troop 211, Hazelwood School.

Troops marching in this unit were Brownie troop 827, Mrs. Ben Barry, leader; Brownie troop 1036, Mrs. James Root, leader; Junior troop 420, Mrs. Leland Lopes and Mrs. Mel Swenson, leaders; Junior troop 1047, Mrs. William Tasker and Mrs. Franklin Militante, leaders.

Riding on the San Tomas School float was Pamela Kolachi, Brownie from troop 214.

Head Start has an open house

The public is invited to attend an open house at the Campbell Head Start Center, St. Lawrence Episcopal Church, 65 W. Rincon, Campbell, on April 20 at 9:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.

The open house will be held concurrently at all Santa Clara County Head Start Centers, and at the Central Office, 99 Notre Dame, San Jose.

The purpose of the open house is to better acquaint the public with the activities of Project Head Start in the local community.

Visitors to the centers will be able to observe the program in action and local volunteers and staff members will be available to answer any questions.

Refreshments will be served.

For further information, call the Head Start office at 299-2417.

Green thumbers visit gardens

An annual tour of members' gardens will highlight the Wednesday, April 19 meeting of the Blossom Valley Garden Club.

After assembling for coffee at 9:30 a.m. in the home of Mrs. Norman Le Veques, the club members will tour the Mueller's cactus gardens and the Carman's nursery.

Lunch will be served at the home of Mrs. Sherman Lombard.

Grand Tetons is on Y tour plan

Y's Travelers, the San Jose YWCA-sponsored travel group for men and women, will have a tour of Yellowstone National Park and the Grand Tetons as "trip of the year," and have a series of other one-day and extended trips planned for this summer.

New travelers are welcome on the tour and some other trips are open to children. Information and reservations are available at the San Jose YWCA, 210 S. Second St., phone 292-1075.

Coming up as one-day jaunts are a trip to the Oakland Flower Show May 6, to San Juan Bautista and Schilling Spice Company on May 18, to Tiburon June 10, to San Francisco Zoo via Skyline July 22, and to San Francisco's Chinatown August 19.

Over Memorial Day weekend (May 26-29) there will be a Los Angeles trip for a visit to Universal City and the Queen Mary in Long Beach.

The Yellowstone - Grand Tetons trip is planned for July 1 to 10. From August 4 to 6 will be a trip to the Laguna Art Festival and Lion Country. Winding up the summer travel schedule is a Trinity Alps tour over the Labor Day weekend (Sept. 2-4).

YOUNG MUSICIANS

High school musicians from throughout the county will perform for younger children in the second annual Youth Music Festival at the Saratoga Youth Center, Fruitvale Avenue, on Sunday, April 16 at 2 p.m.

Among the performers will be Desmond Caravella of Westmont High on the trombone, and Bryan Yoshida, piano; and Dirk McKenzie, bass; both Prospect students who will play in a jazz quartet.

The Arctic tern, the world's longest migrator, nests in the tundra of the Arctic and winters in Antarctica.

LIONS TROPHY

The great Campbell Varsity baseball team, competing against 42 schools for first place, achieved their goal and brought home a first place trophy in the Lion's Tournament during Easter vacation. The scores of the games were: Campbell 9-Piedmont Hills 3; Campbell 3-Kennedy 0; Campbell 8-Willow Glen 2; Campbell 5-St. Francis 2; Campbell 10-Los Gatos 4; and Campbell 2-Bellarmine 1.

NIGHT BASEBALL

Last Friday, in a night game against Westmont at Washington Park, the Bucs had little trouble, until the sprinklers went on in the bottom of the fifth inning, wetting down Westmont's already dampened spirits, and ending the game with a score of 14-1.

HONORS

Congratulations to Karen Hastings and Martin Lee for the honor of being selected to play in the California All-State honor orchestra! Their performance at the California music educators association convention in Fresno was outstanding.

BOUQUET

Congratulations also to Kay Hofer, who was selected as Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow. Kay, who had the highest test score at Campbell, has a chance for a $1,000 scholarship to the school of her choice, if her test wins in state competition and goes on to national.

Prospect's Prophecies

ALL-SCHOOL PLAY

A long, standing ovation was given the cast and crew of Prospect's all-school play, "My Fair Lady."

Following the two hour-45 minute final performance on March 18, every person in the full-house audience stood and applauded as cast members returned to the stage to receive flowers or gifts.

The audience cheered and applauded wildly as Steve (Alfred P. Doolittle) McLaughlin, and Lisa (Elisa Doolittle) Paye, took their bows.

A wave of laughter filled the room on the entrance of Mike (Zoltan Karpathy) Rabadeux.

The $2,700 hit production of George Bernard Shaw's "Pygmalion," adapted by Alan Jay Lerner, brought in an approximate $500 profit for the school.

Directed by Mrs. Teddie Page, the play featured Prospect's orchestra, conducted by Samuel Espeseth, and the intricate choreography of Kathy and Devin Derham, Vicki Smith, and Debbie Wilson.

Special effort by the stage crew was evident in the cleverly designed "turn-about" sets.

Attendance at the four performances totaled approximately 1800.

A cast party followed at the home of student-director Mike Lance, featuring teary-eyed cast members, and the antics of Greg Wilkinson, Mike Rabadeux, and Steve McLaughlin.

PILOT PROGRAM BREAKS DOWN

"I wish to thank my teachers and the staff who were involved, and I thank you for permitting us to run this pilot program. I am not recommending it's continuance at Camden High for next year," stated Mr. Crawford, principal, in a recent block schedule evaluation report given to the Campbell Union High School District Board of Trustees.

This block schedule program was initiated at Camden for the school year 1971-72 and used Physical Education as the pivot course, and Chemistry, Wood Lab, and Homemaking II F as the classroom courses.

Some of the problems that occurred with the pivot course P.E. were: students involved in a sport could not be in this Block Schedule; the students could not pick the activity that they wanted while the regular P.E. courses could, and the overall P.E. coaches thought that they would rather not be on this schedule if all other P.E. classes weren't.

Objectives of this program centered around the main theme of additional instructional time resulting in more class time to develop the student's skills.

Some of the overall benefits of this schedule were that it gave students a longer time to work on a project making progress observable, and the teacher had more of an opportunity to help and or comment on work of an individual. In addition the "clock time" pressure was off.

Against the use of the schedule were the time (110 minutes) being long for one activity; the block schedule requiring a separate set of lesson plans, and the fact that all absences of one day in the block schedule really amounted to two days.

GRADUATION PARTY

Camden High's graduating class of 72 is planning to attend Disneyland for their after-graduation party on June 13.

The trip was paid for in three installments with a total cost of the trip being $22.25.

This price includes unlimited use of dancing facilities, use of rides, and the transportation to Disneyland.

On Tuesday, June 13, the seniors will leave the Camden High parking lot for the trip.

Dress for boys at Disneyland will be fairly formal with suits or sports coat. Girls may wear dresses or pant suits.

JUNIOR PARENT NIGHT
by Karen Kost

Tonight (Wednesday, April 12) Camden will host it's annual "Junior Parent Night." The evening will feature a panel presentation including five different speakers; Mrs. Huston, counselor at West Valley College; Mel Estrada, Campbell District Office-Occupational Program; Martin Tucker, University of Santa Clara; Curt Willson, counselor at Camden High, and Mrs. Dorothy Pata, counselor at Camden High.

The panel will answer questions concerning such things as vocational opportunities, technical schools, college admission information, and financial aid.

CINDY LONG

Cindy Long to wed

The engagement of Cindy Long and Larry Alvarez was announced to parents and friends recently.

Cindy, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Long, 1121 McBain Avenue, is a graduate of Presentation High School and is currently attending West Valley College and working as a receptionist at Community Bank of San Jose.

Her fiance, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Alvarez of Tracy, is a graduate of Tracy High and Santa Clara University, where he was a member of Kappa Zeta.

Cindy was one of the princesses in the recent Easter Parade and was homecoming princess for Mitty High School in 1971.

The groom-elect is currently employed in Tracy at the Alvarez Brothers business.

A November 25 wedding date has been set.

PRIZE-WINNING POSTER---Mrs. Dennis McEfee, decoration chairman, and Donald Burr, Campbell police chief serving as model, hold a poster advertising the upcoming fashion show of St. Lucy's Mothers Guild. The church group's annual fashion show will be held Friday, April 21 at 8 p.m. in St. Lucy's Kennelly Hall, 2350 Winchester Blvd. The prize-winning poster was made by Chris Wischmann, Jeff Lee and Tim Scalmanini.

Campbell and Good Sam receive two year hospital accreditation

Two local hospitals, Campbell Community and The Good Samaritan, are included in five Valley hospitals surveyed by the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals this spring and which have received accreditation for the maximum of two years.

Other hospitals included on the spring accreditation survey are O'Connor, Alexian Brothers and San Jose Hospital and Health Center.

The Joint Commission represents the American College of Physicians, American College of Surgeons, American Hospital Association and American Medical Association. It is a voluntary program; hospitals must apply for accreditation before a survey team is assigned to them.

Purpose of the accreditation program is to safeguard the patient's life and health. It sets up standards for every area of activity in the average hospital, providing a yardstick by which efficiency of care must be measured.

Charlie Brown proves as funny on-stage as in comic strip

by Barbara Price

Nobody doesn't like Charlie Brown -- that is in the comics and on tv, but who loves the boy-loser on stage?

Everybody! For the Nu Group-Phoenix premiere Friday night of "You're a Good Man, Charlie Brown" was warm and convincing.

From their first prance around stage to the closing ball game when they were wiped out, the Peanuts gang, touched a chord in the audience.

They were vigorously applauded repeatedly -- which tended to make each antic a bit disconnected, but after a few minutes the audience and actors caught the rhythm of the comedy and it smoothed into a unity.

On the technical side, the props were colorful and simple, a large dog house, a park bench, boxes.

Stage crew used real imagination for the backdrop, a kind of screen onto which colors and images were projected.

Outstanding performers in the six-man cast were Madeleine Hurley as Lucy and Jeff Risk as Snoopy.

Madeleine was all that Charles Schulz had made Lucy -- crabby, bossy, smart-aleck and very, very funny!

Jeff deserves extra plaudits for his rolling, barking, bone-chewing imitation of Snoopy -- not an easy part!

Wally Gilbert didn't seem to fit the title role, maybe because he just doesn't look like Charlie Brown, but he did dig into the part, and he made us feel very sorry when nobody gave him any valentines.

So -- send Charlie a valentine next February 14, and try and catch a delightful performance by this newly-formed theater group.

Other performers in the child-pleasing Peanuts musical, which was produced by C. Michael Traw, are Jeff Hornaday as Linus; Larry Cowles as Schroeder and Becky Rodler as Patty.

The comic-strip gang will cavort one more weekend, April 14 to 16 in the Prentiss Brown Auditorium at Los Gatos High School.

Cabrini Theater rehearses opera

"Pirates Of Penzance," considered by many to be one of the finest Gilbert and Sullivan comic operas, will be performed soon by Cabrini Community Theater (CCT).

The plot centers around a young man, Frederic, who is freed from his apprenticeship as a pirate at age 21.

Having a keen "sense of duty", he vows to exterminate these pirates whom he loves individually, but detests as a whole.

By a cruel trick of fate, he learns that he has not truly reached his 21st birthday, and must serve the pirates for another 63 years.

Heading the cast of this production are professional singers Jeffrey Wayne as the pirate king and Linda Henderson, portraying Mabel.

Wayne was recently seen in the leading role in "Man Of La Mancha", and was understudy to Enzio Stuarti in the Community Theater production of "South Pacific."

Mrs. Henderson has been seen in such productions as "Little Mary Sunshine" and various operas in the north Bay Area.

Directing "Pirates Of Penzance" is CCT resident director John P. Healy, Jr. assisted by musical director Patricia Healy and accompanist Chris Khoury, both of the College of Notre Dame, Belmont.

The set is designed by John Thornburg, with costumes and props by Anne Sudyka. The first performance will be held April 29, with a repeat on April 30, at St. Frances Cabrini hall on Camden Avenue.

For further information or group ticket plans and reservations call 269-3738 or 265-1490.

LOVESONG---Frederic (John P. Healy, Jr.) sings his love to Mabel (Linda Henderson) in the Cabrini Community Theater production of Gilbert & Sullivan's "Pirates of Penzance". The comic opera will be performed Saturday, April 29 at 8 p.m. and Sunday, April 30 at 3 p.m. in St. Frances Cabrini Hall, Camden Ave. Ticket price is $1.50, adults and $1, children under 13.

Ladies sample salad and wine

A tasty array of homemade salads will be featured at the annual spring salad luncheon of St. Lucy's Altar Society on Thursday, April 13, at noon in the church's Kennelly Hall, 2350 Winchester Blvd.

Champagne, made by the group for the occasion, will be served along with bread and cheese.

Chairman is Mrs. Frances Ambrosini while Mrs. George Wolf will handle tickets and Mrs. Lee Aversente, prizes and decorations.

A handmade afghan, a box of mixed fruits, a handmade yarn-decorated purse and a money tree are among the prizes which will be offered at the luncheon.

Guests are welcome, and may purchase the $1.75 tickets at the door.

Spring dance features buffet

The Mayfair Riders western spring dance will be held on Saturday, April 15 at 9 p.m. in the American Legion Hall, 1344 Dell Ave.

Features of the event include live music, a raffle for a rug, door prizes and a midnight buffet.

Tickets for the dance, which is being planned under the chairmanship of Mrs. A. L. Larton, may be bought for $2.50 at the door or by phoning 251-4187.

Job's Daughters

BETHEL 174

Silver and white decorations enhanced a reception held by Campbell Bethel 174, Job's Daughters, for Debra Harris, grand bethel guide and past president.

"The Impossible Dream", theme of the March 5 reception, was sung by Mrs. Lee Ann Malloy.

Honorary officers at the reception were the girls who had served during Debra's term as honored queen.

Mrs. Leslie Titus, past associate guardian, was the honored guest escort for the event.

Among the guests she ushered in were Mrs. Dorothy Boswell, deputy grand guardian; Mrs. Lois Pezzaglia, and nine grand bethel girls.

A number of other noteworthy activities were enjoyed by the bethel since the December installation of their new honored queen, Jennie Johnson.

Forty girls and chaperones spent the afternoon of January 15 ice skating, then topped the exercise with dinner at Cap'ns Galley Pizza.

On January 26 the officers of Bethel 174 formed the closing cross for the installation of the San Jose Commandery, No. 10, Knights Templar.

While the snows were still deep on the mountains two busloads of girls and chaperones left to ski and toboggan on Dodge and Bumblebee Ridges.

Six initiates were welcomed into the bethel on Saturday, February 12 when Mrs. Dorothy Boswell, deputy grand guardian, made her official inspection of the bethel.

The new members include Zoe Ann Allman, Stephanie Rogers, Jan Patton, Lori Leib, Betsy Blackman and Barbara Brown.

On February 13, the day after the inspection, bethel members helped as hostesses at the Charity Lodge "sweetheart dinner".

Tori Bruner, jr. princess; Cathy Gipson, guide, and Vickie Clothier, marshal, were installed on February 26, after a special election.

A "dime-a-dip" dinner was held the evening of the installation to raise funds for Klista, an Indian girl "adopted" by Bethel 174.

Alice MacKay, Sue MacFarland and Mrs. Debbie Dean, past honored queens, were greeted at a meeting set aside for them on March 11.

Sandy Reuwsaat was elected at the group's last meeting as Bethel 174's representative in the upcoming Miss Job's Daughter contest.

CAPPING CEREMONY---Barbara Alexander, a freshman nursing student at Merritt Hospital School of Nursing and Hayward State College, will be honored in capping ceremonies on Friday, April 14 at the First United Presbyterian Church of Oakland. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne L. Alexander of Campbell, Barbara attended the University of Arizona, the College of San Mateo and San Jose State College prior to enrolling at Merritt last September. The capping ceremony marks the successful completion of the first seven months of study at the Merritt Hospital.

Health Fair '72 reviews careers

The 1972 Santa Clara County Health Fair offers local young people an opportunity to shop for careers in the expanding health care field next weekend (April 15-16) at Cupertino's DeAnza College, Stevens Creek Blvd. and Stelling Rd., just off Freeway 280.

Admission will be free. Hours are 10 a.m. until 7 p.m. Saturday; 10 a.m. until 5 p.m. Sunday.

Although many exhibits will be of itnerest to those seeking to keep up with developments in the medical field, primary purpose of the Health Fair is to recruit young people for the allied health professions.

The event is sponsored by the Santa Clara County Medical Society and its Auxiliary.

To make it a fun fair, as well as an informative one, plans call for continuous schedules of entertainment, including movies, gymnastics, and wheelchair games.

Most of the exhibits will be in the college gymnasium. Some, like the Mobile Dental Clinic from the University of California Dental School and the California Podiatry Association's Mobile Podiatry Clinic, will be outside.

According to experts, there will be more health care workers in a few years than any other type.

Development of new techniques and methods of health care have made it necessary to train people specially to administer them.

At the Health Fair, there will be representatives of numerous professional societies, health agencies and affiliated groups who can advise about training for a special type of work, as well as its potential for service and income.

PROMOTED

Edwin J. Cook, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roger W. Cook, 2174 Violet Way, Campbell, recently was promoted to Army Specialist Four while serving with the 720th Military Police Battalion in Vietnam.

Spec. Cook is a military policeman with the battalion's Company A.

PUZZLEMENT--Teaching of the hearing-impaired child will be one of the health care fields demonstrated at the Santa Clara County Health Fair this weekend (April 15-16) at Cupertino's De Anza College. Mrs. Henry Drinker, assistant to the director at Project IDEA, watches as Jeff Birchell, 2½, ponders a puzzle. Project IDEA, now located on the Valley Medical Center grounds, is supported by community donations, and the state and federal government.

PARK CONTRIBUTION--Dave Valkenaar, president of the Campbell JayCees, accepts a check for the Rincon Park Fund from Bob Bullard and Norman Paul. Donor was Mike Engdol of Dura Style Homes whose contribution during the recent election campaign in the amount of $240 will be used by the JayCees in helping develop the park.

Students train for park work

Because of a unique two-year program in park management, West Valley College students have built a complete campground at Pt. Reyes National Seashore, and are managing Castle Rock State Park each weekend, collecting fees, policing and building trails.

The program is headed by John Nicholas, recently named college football coach who works for the Forest Service during the summer.

Students' enthusiasm for the program is quickly evident, as is the great respect between Nicholas and his students and the environment they are developing and preserving.

On one expedition to Castle Rock Park, four students arrived after the main crew and hiked in individually so they could help with the 2.2 mile trail being built by the young people.

Courses which are offered in the program include fire suppression, program planning and organization, conservation of natural resources plus courses in biological and physical sciences.

Nicholas and others at the college developed the curriculum after extensive field trips to various parks revealed what was necessary for technician positions.

More than 100 students are currently enrolled in the two-year old program and 19 of these will be the first graduates of the program this June.

Graduates of the program qualify as technicians or aides with such agencies as the county park department, National Park Service, United States Forest Service and other agencies that provide outdoor recreational programs.

Students who desire to pursue a four-year training in park management are encouraged to transfer to San Diego State, Sacramento State College or the University of California, after completing West Valley's program.

PICK 'N SHOVEL -- Two young men enrolled in West Valley's park management program use pick and shovel to clear a trail in Castle Rock Park.

SCIENCE SPEAKER

Grace Bemis Curtis, a Christian Scientist and formerly a concert pianist, will speak on "Let's Choose Heaven Here" on Saturday, April 15 at the Plaza Theater, 2501 Winchester Blvd.

A teacher of Christian Science and a member of the Board of Lectureship of the First Church of Christ Scientist in Boston, Mass., Mrs. Curtis travels around the world, addressing church members.

Coventry kids prove push-carts are just as exciting as motor-driven vehicles

In these days when "women's lib" is poking its head up in so many unforeseen places, it's no wonder that men feel a little pushed.

And so did the boys at Coventry School.

After all, their math teacher said they could pick their own project. And some of them picked some really unique subjects. Like the shoe attached to a poster that said "Don't kick at math" and the seashell tree...but a girl building a push-cart?

And apparently, that's what started the whole wonderful idea which culminated in nearly two hours of push-cart races last Friday afternoon on the school grounds.

For if Patty Price could build a cart, so could other boys in the sixth grade as well as another girl!

So Ross Tefft and Phil Cohen enlisted the aid of Dale Krahn, a Campbell Jr. High student. Jeff Aragaki, Becky Alvarez, Ray McArley, Ronnie Jordan and Curtis Boomquest, Keith Onishi and Billy Jeffrey, Steve Helfter and Kelly West and Mike Bardon all built carts.

And if they could build 'em, they might as well race 'em. And if they raced 'em, they might as well have prizes.

Philip Cohen and Ross Tefft took over the organization of the project, which included the selection of timers, an announcer and a track layout. The audience participation sounded a little like San Jose Speedway on Saturday night.

The carts were indescribable. Some were elaborate creations such as Patty's, neatly painted and with carpeting, but somewhat heavy to negotiate. Others were "barebone" boards, riding on skate wheels with the driver unprotected except for his helmet. Wood, cardboard, wagon wheels and rope were used extensively.

One race entry which was not listed on the announcer's schedule was a wagon hastily borrowed from the kindergarten, ridden by a faculty member and pulled alternately by two men teachers. It only participated in one event and finished in a dead heat with its competitor.

The race was not without excitement. Two pushers were assigned to each lap, relay fashion. One pusher moved so fast that he sent the cart into the corner of a sandbox and bent the wheel too badly for continued competition. Another time, Phil and Ross' car almost lost a wheel, but their pit crew skillfully made repairs which brought the boys back into the main event to win it. They had earlier won the trophy dash.

Runner-up was Jeff Aragaki.

Best-looking prize was awarded to Patty Price.

Trophies for the event were contributed by the Campbell Press and presented by Claude Tallent of the Moreland District office. Faculty advisor (and chief rooter) was Mrs. Shirley Kazen.

Church makes revival plans

"Following Jesus" will be the theme of the one-week Revival Service starting April 16 at the First Baptist Church of Campbell, 400 Llewellyn Ave.

Rev. Max Hively, pastor of Parkway Baptist Church of Dublin, California, will be the guest evangelist at services which start at 7:30 each evening.

Dale Stark, the new music and education director of the church, will be leading a music program of choir specials highlighted by solos, quartets and instrumentals.

Fellowships will follow the Sunday night service to welcome the evangelist and after Friday "Youth Night" service.

Monday night the ladies wearing granny dresses will be honored and the men wearing loud-colored sport shirts will receive special recognition Wednesday night.

Church members have devoted the preceding two weeks to Cottage Prayer meetings in preparation for the Revival and anticipate many blessings will be received during these services.

CHOIRS COMBINE

The choirs of St. Andrew's Episcopal Church (Saratoga) and St. Mark's Episcopal Church (Palo Alto) will sing together in a choral festival on Friday, May 5, at 8:15 p.m. at the Saratoga church, 13601 Saratoga Ave.

Tickets for adults are $2.50; those for students are $1.25, and may be purchased at the door the evening of the performance.

ST. LUCY'S ACTIVITIES

Members of St. Lucy's parish will bring high protein canned foods to the church on Sunday, April 16 for a procession at all of the masses, in order to restock the food given to the needy by the Outreach Committee.

St. Lucy's annual Men's Retreat will be held the weekend of April 21 to 23 at San Juan Bautista. For more information on the retreat phone 378-0249.

WHERE THE ACTION WAS --From the top....pushcarts before the race....readying at the starting gate....is that a student? Cars move into the first curve....a second pusher prepares to take over....teacher power moves ahead. Coming into the finish line....rough rides....out of control. An accident?...out of the race.... winner of the best looking trophy. Runnerup Jeff Aragaki....main and trophy dash winners Phil Cohen, Ross Tefft and crew....wait till next year.

California Insurance Policies Now Must Include Chiropractic Care!

SACRAMENTO, CALIF. — Californians now, for the first time, are covered for chiropractic care under their insurance policies.

Under state law, insurance companies must pay for care rendered by chiropractic doctors if they would have paid for care of the same condition rendered by any other doctor.

The law holds that insurance companies may draw no distinction as to care rendered by doctors in any of the healing arts. This means that:

If a person should become involved in an accident, all automobile insurance providing medical reimbursement must pay for chiropractic care in the state of California.

If a person becomes ill or injured off the job, the California state disability program for employed persons accepts certificates of disability from doctors of chiropractic.

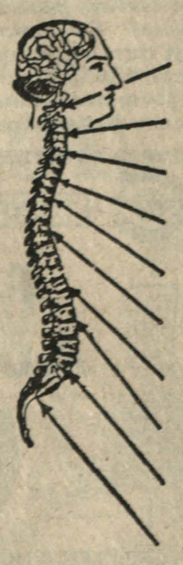
If a person becomes ill or injured on the job, he or she is covered by the California state employee compensation program, which includes chiropractic care on a par with all other provider groups.

Under any circumstances:

Every insurance policy written in the State of California, whether group or individual, NOW MUST INCLUDE CHIROPRACTIC CARE.

SPINAL NERVE PRESSURE CAN CAUSE MANY AILMENTS

The ailments mentioned below are some which may be caused by vertebrae in the spinal column slipping out of alignment and causing pressure and irritation on nerves. Study the chiropractic chart below and you will understand why over 30 million people have benefited from chiropractic care.



1. Slight pressure on nerves at this point may cause headaches, insomnia, pain in the neck, nervousness, dizziness or emotional disorders.
2. A slight slipping of a vertebra, causing pressure on nerves in this part of the spine, may be the cause of throat trouble, bursitis, pain in the shoulders and arms.
3. This arrowhead locates the part of the spine wherein pressure on nerves could cause pain between the shoulder blades, muscular ache in the arm and shoulders, hay fever, allergies, and bronchitis.
4. Nerve pressure at this point may cause chest pains, asthma and difficult breathing.
5. Stomach and liver troubles, enlargement of the spleen, may be caused by vertebrae slipping and causing nerve pressure in this part of the spine.
6. Many gall bladder problems, and shingles, may be caused by pressure at this point.
7. Skin diseases are sometimes the result of nerve pressure at the spinal openings here.
8. Such trouble as lumbago, low backache, sacroiliac slip, slipped disc, are relieved by chiropractic adjustment at this point.
9. Constipation, rectal trouble, sciatica may be corrected by chiropractic adjustments of this part of the spine.
10. A slight slippage of one or both pelvic bones can produce sciatica, cramp in legs, and backache.

Regardless of what your ailment is called . . . no matter how long you have suffered . . . chiropractic care may be the answer to your health problem. Find out NOW if yours is a case for chiropractic . . . Call for appointment.

Z.P.G. (ZERO POPULATION GROWTH)

If you're the kind of person who likes science fiction thrillers, then you'll probably find "Zero Population Growth", starring Oliver Reed and Geraldine Chaplin very interesting movie viewing.

"Z.P.G.", now showing at the Winchester Drive-In in Campbell and several other area theaters, establishes a time somewhat ahead of our own where the law forbids childbirth. The penalty is death by a 12 hour suffocation for those who don't obey. (That's quite an incentive not to have kids.)

If this general plot line seems a little silly, I'm afraid I'll have to agree, but somehow, Oliver Reed and Geraldine Chaplin make the whole idea fairly believable. Of course Geraldine decides she has to have a baby, so she spends her entire pregnancy in the basement so that no one will know what's going on. She has to deliver prematurely and because doctors are required to enforce the law, Oliver has to deliver the baby himself.

The intrigue which ensues between this couple and their "friends" who find out about the baby is quite interesting. The other couple fall in love with the baby, of course, and threaten to turn Oliver and Geraldine over to the law if they don't let them have the baby permanently. A large portion of the film is taken up with Oliver and Geraldine planning to outwit the couple, the law, escape death and obtain freedom to raise the baby somewhere else. I won't tell you the outcome.

The really stupid part of the movie which is impossible to swallow is the Baby Mart, where couples line up for blocks to get dolls which are programmed to behave like children. (They are supposed to take the place of the children which no one is allowed to have.) In any case, it is very unnerving to see a grown woman coddle an ugly little doll like it was her child. Undoubtedly, we were supposed to be turned off by the whole thing. Well, we were.

There are some very good museum sequences where stuffed cats from the twentieth century are on display. (They became extinct sometime before the movie takes place.) Plants are also breathing their last breath and the museum has a few specimens which are still living on display. The air is so foul everyone has to wear masks. So the show manages to get all its ecology messages, threats and predictions in also.

Retelling the story makes the whole movie sound so much more ridiculous than it really is. Actually, it's not a bad movie if you like the "Planet of the Apes" kind of science fiction.

While there aren't any apes in COSTUME in this movie, I think the producers make monkeys out of Oliver Reed and Geraldine Chaplin. This pair has talents which could be used in better ways. Who knows...maybe there wasn't anything else available and they needed the money.

Claremont men earn top marks

Steven Borsgard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Calmer S. Borsgard, 540 Sobrato Dr., earned distinguished scholar rating for his top marks last year as a sophomore at Claremont Men's College.

A freshman student, Lawrence Sicular, son of Mr. and Mrs. George M. Sicular of Los Gatos, was also among the nearly 200 students who garnered 3.5 grade average or above to earn the distinguished scholar title.

John Vallandigham, sophomore and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Vallandigham, Los Gatos, was among nearly 250 students placed on the dean's list with a scholastic average of 3.0 or above.

Immigrants from Asia now account for almost one-fourth the total number of newcomers to this country each year.

Students garner scholarships

Nearly 30 Campbell young people were recently chosen as state scholars by California's Scholarship and Loan Commission.

Among the Campbell High School scholars are Martin Ageson, Joanne K. Asano, Chloe Atkins, Helen D. Burnham, Emily Dean Erkman, John F. Forbes, Melanie A. Fujishin, Loreene M. Hillier, Penny G. Ireton, Dale A. Krahn, Steven J. Lopez, Andrea K. Oltmann, Jeffrey L. Pigg and Dawn E. Stoudinger.

Westmont High scholarship winners include Ramona V. Candelaria, Joan E. Cardellino, Sally J. Harrison, Daniel W. McGaw and Leslie A. Tobey.

Other Campbell-based recipients are Rhonda S. Blair, Camden High; Arthur A. Ferraro, Mitty High; Joan E. Grim, Presentation High; Patti A. McCall, Butler-Mitty High; Kerry J. McDonald and John D. Shilling, both of Del Mar High; Robert D. Woodhouse, Prospect High; William A. Slough, Camden High; Candis A. Bourdet, West Valley College; and Kathleen R. Matthews, U.C. Santa Barbara.

Each state scholar is eligible to apply for a yearly scholarship renewal as long as he stays within the financial and scholastic standards.

Hospital unit gets director

A San Jose psychiatrist, Dr. Arthur W. Anderson Jr., M.D., has been appointed director of the Therapeutic Community (psychiatric unit) of The Good Samaritan Hospital of Santa Clara Valley.

The Therapeutic Community is a 24-bed unit to which patients are admitted by their physicians. Group therapy involving patients, their families and the professional staff plays a major role in treatment and may be continued on an outpatient basis after the patient has returned to his or her home.

As part of the 11 million dollar Phase II expansion program now in progress at the non-profit hospital, the Therapeutic Community will be enlarged to double its present size.

The new director came to this area in 1958 as a staff psychiatrist at Agnews State Hospital. He will continue in private practice on a limited basis.

Campbell Artist's Guild

An oil painting of a statue from the Avery Brundage Collection garnered Ellen Farrel the honor of March's artist of the month for the Campbell Artist's Guild.

A new member of the Guild, the Campbellite studied art in St. Petersburg, Florida and worked as a portraitist in New York and Miami.

Members of the Campbell Artist's Guild are currently showing their paintings at the following locations: Regina Greenleaf at San Carlos branch, Eleanor Dwyre and Gene Glissman at main branch and Bernadine Bezamar in the loan room of the Crocker Citizens Bank.

The First National Bank is showing Nadine Wright's work at the Budd Avenue branch and Bonnie Shofner's art at the Burbank branch.

Cathie DeMattei has a one woman show at Hester branch, Bank of America, while Helen Loritz is showing at Campbell branch for the month of April followed by Jeanette Pang in May.

At Valley Fair branch, Beverly Booth is exhibiting during April and Darwyn Patz in May.

The public is invited to the Annual Officers Juried show at Saratoga Gallery, 14501 Big Basin Way, which will close at the end of April.

VIOLET SOCIETY

The African Violet Society of South Bay will hold their regular meeting Tuesday, April 18, at 1 p.m. in the Palo Alto - Salinas Savings Community Room, 10250 Saratoga-Sunnyvale Road, Cupertino.

The program includes a "Show Plant Series" by Barbara McGee of Saratoga and a review on "Caring for Pots".

$20 BILL....NO TAKERS---John Brazzelo, manager of Dick Whalen's Regal Service on W. Campbell Ave. at Fulton, holds a $20 bill he tried for over a week to give away. All you had to do to win it was to identify the "Mystery Car" in Whalen's ad in the Campbell Press.

Several customers guessed the right year, 1923, but the wrong name of the car, a 1923 Durant. So this week's new Mystery Car entry has a "price tag" of $30 for the first customer who can come in with the coupon properly identifying the car.

LEGAL NOTICE

RESOLUTION OF INTENTION OF BOARD OF SUPERVISORS OF COUNTY OF SANTA CLARA TO SELL REAL PROPERTY NO LONGER NEEDED FOR HIGHWAY PURPOSES

Project Central I
Parcel No. 2811-106 EX

WHEREAS, the County of Santa Clara has acquired for highway purposes certain real property no longer required for such purposes, such property being more fully described in Exhibit "A", attached hereto and made a part hereof by this reference;

NOW, THEREFORE, be it resolved that pursuant to the authority of Section 960.4 of the California Streets and Highways Code, the Board of Supervisors of the County of Santa Clara do hereby declare their intention to offer for sale the above-described real property.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that such real property shall be sold subject to the following terms and conditions:

1. The minimum amount which will be accepted for the sale of such property shall be the sums of Twelve Thousand Five Hundred Dollars ($12,500.00).

2. The County of Santa Clara has purchased a preliminary title report from Valley Title Company, 300 South First Street, San Jose, escrow number 154668. A copy of such preliminary title report is available for inspection at the title company. The successful bidder shall close the transaction through this escrow.

3. All sealed bids shall be accompanied by a deposit in the form of cash, cashier's check or certified check, payable to the order of the County of Santa Clara in the amount of One Thousand Two Hundred Fifty Dollars ($1,250.00). All oral bids from persons not submitting written bids shall be accompanied by a deposit in the form of cash, cashier's check or certified check in the amount of ten per cent of the minimum price specified in this resolution. No bid shall be considered unless such deposit is enclosed or provided therewith.

4. Written bids shall be on forms provided by the County. Before accepting any written bid, the Board of Supervisors shall call for oral bids. Any oral bid must exceed by at least five per cent the highest written bid. In the absence of written bids, the minimum oral bid shall be not less than the amount specified in paragraph 1. Final acceptance of an oral bid shall not be made, however, unless such oral bid is reduced to writing and signed by the bidder on a form provided by the County.

No commission shall be paid unless there is contained in the sealed proposal the name of the licensed real estate broker to whom it shall be paid. No commission shall be paid in connection with a successful oral bid unless the oral bid, when reduced in writing, states the name of the licensed real estate broker to whom it shall be paid.

5. The County may accept the bid of the highest responsible bidder (written or oral), or may reject all bids, as well as waiving any and all defects or informalities in any and all such bids. In the event there is a tie as to the highest responsible bidder (written or oral), the successful bidder may be determined by lot, or by such other means as determined by the Board of Supervisors. Any sale may be cancelled by County at any time prior to the recordation of the deed, in which event all monies deposited shall be refunded without payment of interest. In determining the highest proposal, the Board shall not subtract therefrom any commission to be paid in accordance with paragraph 12 hereof.

6. Within sixty (60) days after date of acceptance of bid by the Board of Supervisors, the successful bidder shall:

(a) Pay the balance in full, or

(b) Increase his deposit to not less than twenty-five per cent (25%) of the amount of the bid by deposit with the title company referred to in paragraph 2.

The balance of the purchase price (in a maximum sum of seventy-five per cent of the amount of the bid) shall be evidenced by a promissory note by the successful bidder naming the County of Santa Clara as payee, such evidence of indebtedness to be secured by a first deed of trust covering the entire parcel being sold. Such note shall be payable on or before eighteen (18) months after date of recordation of deed. The deed of trust shall contain a clause providing for acceleration upon the alienation of title.

Upon delivery into escrow by bidder of all documents and money provided for in (a) or (b) above, County shall deliver into escrow a deed in favor of the successful bidder.

7. The promissory note shall bear interest at the rate of seven per cent per annum.

Said interest shall be paid to County quarterly on the first day of January, April, July and October, commencing with whichever of the last-mentioned months that follows the recordation date of the deed. Each quarterly interest payment shall be computed and prorated on the basis of the unpaid balance prevailing at the beginning of the quarterly period.

A late charge in the amount of 2% of the quarterly interest payment will be assessed if interest payment is not made within 10 calendar days after due date.

The principal obligation under the Note and Deed of Trust may be prepaid in full or in part at any time without penalty. Partial payments shall be applied against the principal obligation.

8. Until the recordation of the deed to the successful bidder, the successful bidder acquires no right, title or interest or equity in or to such real property.

9. A failure of the successful bidder to comply with any of the provisions of this resolution shall cause the County to terminate the sales proceeding and retain the deposit referred to in paragraph 3.

10. The sale shall be without warranty, express or implied, and shall be subject to all liens, easements and encumbrances, whether of record or not, as of the date of recordation of the deed. The County of Santa Clara does not guarantee the condition of the property, nor does it assume any responsibility for its conformance to codes or regulations of the State of California, or the city or county in which the property is located. It is the successful bidder's responsibility to determine all applicable building, planning and zoning regulations relative to the property. The property will be sold on an "as is" basis.

11. Any and all expenses incurred in the transfer of title to such property to the successful bidder, including title insurance, escrow charges and documentary stamp tax, shall be paid by the successful bidder, with the exception that the County of Santa Clara will pay for the preliminary title report previously referred to.

The successful bidder shall deposit into escrow a policy of fire insurance covering any improvements located on the property in an amount satisfactory to and naming the County of Santa Clara as coinsured.

12. In the event a commission is to be paid in accordance with the provisions of paragraph 4 above, County shall pay a licensed real estate broker commission in the maximum of six per cent of the purchase price, such commission, however, to be paid only in the event that the Board of Supervisors accepts a bid, only out of monies received by the County of Santa Clara for the sale of property, and only after recordation of the deed. Such commission shall be paid as follows:

(a) If the highest acceptable sealed bid is submitted by a licensed real estate broker, a commission of three per cent of the purchase price. In the event of a tie between two or more licensed real estate brokers as to the highest acceptable sealed bid, the commission of three per cent of the purchase price shall be equally divided between the brokers. No commission shall be paid if the highest acceptable sealed bid is not submitted by a licensed real estate broker. In the event of a tie between a licensed real estate broker and a bidder who submits a bid and is not a licensed real estate broker, as to the highest acceptable sealed bid, the licensed real estate broker shall be entitled to a commission of three per cent of the purchase price.

(b) Three per cent of the purchase price to the licensed real estate broker submitting the successful bid.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that on May 31, 1972 at the hour of 10:00 o'clock a.m. at the office of the Clerk of the Board of Supervisors in Room 524 in the County Administration Building, 70 West Hedding Street, San Jose, California, 95110, is hereby fixed as the time and place at which sealed bids, in writing, for the purchase of such property will be received. "MEALTIME"—John deVictoria, a native Hawaiian, waters the orchids which crowd the fiberglass greenhouse he assembled in 1965. The greenthumber has imported nearly 5,000 orchids, and now grows over 20 different species in rainbow hues, including green, scarlet, brownish and blue!

CASCADING BEAUTY—Phalaenopsis orchids tumble over each other in a symphony of delicate pastels. The lovely flowers are an outgrowth of the passion for beauty of John deVictoria. The orchid fancier and his wife, a third grade teacher in the Union School District, live at 1049 San Tomas-Aquino Road.

Orchids grow in Orchard City

by Barbara Price

If an orchid is a symbol of luxury, as Webster defines it, then John and Connie deVictoria are surrounded by luxury.

Nearly 5,000 healthy orchid plants are nestled in the back of the tree-graced home at 1049 San Tomas-Aquino Rd., where the deVictorias live with their two small children, Rosanna and Michael.

For over seven years, deVictoria, a native Hawaiian, has nurtured the slow-growing plants. And each year his great love of beauty is rewarded with an explosion of color and delicacy.

Currently, most of the orchids are crowded into a 1,000 square foot fiberglass greenhouse, which he built in 1965.

In the thick warmth of the thermostatically controlled building are several thousand plants pressed tightly together.

Orchids grow in boxes tucked beneath the wooden shelves, nudge each other in long rows and tangle across the narrow aisles.

Tall, broad-leaved plants burgeon to the ceiling and slender stalks trail gracefully from lofty perches.

With trained eyes, deVictoria probes the plants for telltale signs. "If they've been watered too much they swell and finally rot" "If they don't get enough water, the plant shrivels" explained deVictoria, who waters them once a week in the summer months.

"They're not difficult to grow" says the deft gardener, who feels the public has been sold a myth about the fragility of orchids.

Most remember being told that touching the flower petals will cause browning and shriveling.

"Nonsense", he declared.

When asked if orchids were flowers without scent, he pointed to a large violet cattelya with a rich sweet fragrance.

Though they are fairly easy to grow, orchids take a long time to mature, remarks deVictoria.

"From seed to bloom takes five to seven years, depending on the plant."

The orchid hobby started for deVictoria when he bought his first plant at the age of 18.

In 1955 he left a supervisory position in Hawaii's pineapple harvesting industry to come to the mainland where he later plunged into the flower-growing hobby in a much bigger way, importing orchids from France, South America and of course, Hawaii.

In California deVictoria became an equipment operator, but was retired in 1969 because of an accident with a street sweeper which maimed his right hand.

The year he was handicapped, deVictoria bought a 4,000 sq. ft. commercial hot house that was being torn down.

Salvaging the wood and 90 per cent of the glass, the gentle, determined man started to rebuild it at the north side of his home.

"I used 23 cans of paint on it" laughed deVictoria as we approached the immense white skeleton of a building.

Mounting the glass panes, "a time consuming process" is one of the final jobs needed before the building is complete.

"Sometimes people driving by have stopped to ask if the hot house is for sale. It's going up so slowly they think it's being dismantled," smiled deVictoria with a wry chuckle.

Yet deVictoria won't quit because a new home for his plants is urgently needed.

Besides the fiberglass hothouse, nearly 2,000 cymbidium orchids are kept in a lath house and several hundred plants are growing under a sheet of plastic on the patio.

DeVictoria hopes to sell cut orchids on a year-round basis to commercial enterprises, though he now sells some orchids to local shops, like Lou's Flowers, a home-operated business at 1037 Linda Dr., Campbell.

People who admire the exotic blossoms can buy an orchid from deVictoria for $1 and make their own corsage.

The gifted green-thumber also welcomes visitors to his greenhouse. "I like people to come and see my flowers" he beamed proudly.

And people like to come and see his flowers!

Trustees review changes in plan

West Valley College's district reorganization plan, as proposed by Supt. James P. Hardy, will undergo further study at the governing board's next regular meeting April 20 at the request of Mrs. Mildred Wharton, trustee.

Thursday night, Mrs. Wharton asked that consideration be given to adding an assistant superintendent for student personnel services, in addition to the assistant superintendents for finance and education.

She also requested dean of counseling added to the proposed deans in the four areas of instruction, occupational education, student personnel, and continuing education.

These proposals will be considered along with job descriptions for the currently proposed four deanships and an administrative salary structure.

Trustees took a major step in implementing the new reorganization plan with the appointment of Dr. Leroy Lowery to the position of assistant superintendent for finance. He was given a four-year contract running from July 1 of this year to June 30, 1976, at a salary of not less than $27,285.

Dr. Lowery has been with this district since July, 1970, serving as an assistant superintendent of dean of business services.

Stargazers can build telescope

Stargazers desiring the best telescope to view the heavenly bodies can now build it at West Valley College.

The college will offer a course on telescope construction and optics with special emphasis on calculating and grinding the mirror needed in the reflection telescope on Thursdays, 7 to 10 p.m., April 13 to June 15.

Rick Mielbrecht, astronomy instructor, who will teach the course, has worked on scientific satellites at NASA's Ames Research Center.

The $3.50 registration fee does not cover cost of the materials for the telescopes and students should be prepared to spend $15-$25 for such costs.

Interested participants may register in Community Services, 44 E. Latimer Ave., Campbell, room L-26, telephone 379-1733, ext. 58.

CONTRACT AWARDED

A food services contract for West Valley College's Saratoga campus was awarded to the DePaul Automatic Co. at the school's last governing board meeting.

The contract, effective from May 8, 1972 to August 31, 1973, was negotiated after the college refused to grant an additional subsidy to the Canteen Corporation, and that company consequently ceased operating at the school.

RELAY TEAM SECOND IN NATION

An important Camino Norte Conference win was almost the highlight of the past week's action on the West Valley College track. But the Friday win took a back seat after the Viking distance medley relay team set all kinds of records as they ran to a first place at the San Diego Relays Saturday.

Mike Flack, Randy Carlson, (Westmont), Mike Haniger (Mitty), and Mike Schaecher (Branham) combined to run a 10:01.1 to set new Balboa Stadium, school, and event records and defeated the nation's best junior college distance medley team in the process–Arizona Mesa.

The four freshmen beat Arizona by six tenths of a second and their next closest rival, Santa Ana, by 21 seconds while trimming over four seconds off the meet record. The time was the second fastest posted in the nation this year in the event, Arizona posting the fastest at 9:58.

One day earlier WVC defeated Santa Rosa 105-31.

WRIGHT NO-HIT BID SPOILED

Not to be outdone by the tracksters, the WVC baseball team had their share of excitement last week too. A hit with two outs and the bases loaded Saturday was a crushing blow to the Viking batmen and pitcher Dave Wright (Los Gatos).

Wright had fanned 10 and walked only three in the game. But even though Wright struck out two more in the ninth and got another hitter on an easy fly to right, three walks, the hit, and an error tallied two unearned runs and ruined the shut-out right along with the no-hitter. Valley still won 7-2.

West Valley tangled with De Anza last Monday night and will meet Skyline Thursday on the latter's field at 3 p.m. The Vikes are currently 5-5.

SWIMMERS POST 9-6 DUAL MARK

The Vikes ended the 1972 season with a 9-6 record, their best in about the past three or four years. But Saturday the tankers get their real test as they compete with other CNC schools at the conference finals.

WVC did pick up five of 13 firsts against DAC but could pull sweeps in only two events. Mark Gary (Buchser) won the three meter diving and Rich Guerney (Westmont) was second while, in the 200 breast, Jim Basinger (Leigh) broke his own school record with a 2:25.4 effort with Pete Masley (Los Gatos) second.

RACQUETMEN WIN TWO OF THREE

The Vikes pulled out a 5-4 CNC win over Contra Costa to remain deadlocked for second place in the league. The win ran the team's season record to 15-7 and secured for them a winning record in dual-match competition. Their loop mark stands at 4-1.

The Vikes will have a big job Tuesday when they meet Foothill at home at 2:30 p.m. Friday Valley hosts Skyline, also at 2:30 p.m., in CNC play.

Steve Borkenhagen (Santa Clara), Charles Sharples (a resident of Los Gatos), Glen Davis, and Guy Garceau (Westmont) all won singles bouts while Sharples and Borkenhagen teamed for a match-clinching doubles win.

GOLFERS OUT FOR REVENGE

The WVC golfers will be out for a little revenge this week as they play host to Marin Tuesday at Riverside.

The Vikes, 6-1 in league play and leading the CNC, lost to Marin 28-26 earlier in the season to mar their record.

Marin has lost three matches since then and Valley hasn't even been close in any other dual encounter, including a 39-15 win over second place De Anza.

Prospect dads sponsor tennis exhibition

Four of Northern California's top tennis players will be featured at the Prospect High Fourth Annual Tennis Exhibition Wednesday, April 19 at 7 p.m.

The event is sponsored by the fathers' booster club "Panthers Paws", as one of their many fund raising events to assist the athletic department.

Henry Kamakana, recent winner at the Modesto Racquet Club Invitational; Greg Shepard, former San Jose State star; Bob Potthast, tennis Pro at Brookside and tennis coach at De Anza, and Don Gale, director at the Mountain View Athletic Center, will display some sizzling games.

DARTING AROUND

with Tom Carroll

Sunday will see several players from the area compete in the doubles finals of the Northern California Darts Assn. The field of battle will again be the Melody Hall in San Lorenzo.

Winchester St. Congregation I (The Saints) qualified more players than any other team in the area. Their four teams are: Rick James and Chuck Peterson; Mark Cortney and Don Howard; Bud Gaither and Pete Webster; and Willy Buel and Rich Spelts. The Saints maintain a one game lead in the El Camino League "A" division.

Scarlet La Rue I put two pairs in the finals: Ted Allen and John Glaze with Dave Pena and former singles champion Gary Curtaz. The La Rue's are holding a two game lead in the South Bay "A" division.

Banbury Clock I lengthened their lead in the South Bay "B" division to seven games and also qualified two pairs: Al Elder and Bud Guardino along with Rick Miller and Paul Schultz.

The other area pair to reach the finals is Neil McIntosh and Bob Branon of Lancashire Lad II.

Terry Elliott of the Saints had an extremely good evening of shooting. He played only two matches but shot scores of 140, a ton and a 101 and also shot a 103-out. All that was not good enough to make the finals.

DART MARRIAGE

Two of our darters recently got hitched. Paul Schultz of Banbury Clock I married Sunny Barry of Banbury Clock II. Many of the area dart players were in attendance at the ceremony in the Spanish Garden of Rickey's Hyatt House in Palo Alto.

April first was the date of the happy event. This was also the date of the awards dinner of the NCDA. Needless to say that some of the darters managed to have a very liquid day of it.

The running gag was that when they got to the preacher Paul was going to turn around, open his coat and across his shirt would be written "April Fool." This was not the case.

Clothes for the bride, bridesmaids and flower girls were all made by the groom's mother. The bride wore a blue old-fashioned gingham gown with a white brocaded full length apron. The bridesmaids and flower girls were in yellow.

We wonder now if they have his and hers darts sets.

ST. LUCY'S

YOUTH COUNCIL REPORTS

by Cathy Bizjack

The St. Lucy's Youth Council has a drop-in every Thursday night for anyone who cares to come and rap.

The doors open at 7:30 p.m. and usually close at 10 p.m.

A Paschal Meal, planned by the Core committee, was held March 23.

Father Robert Leger read the explanation of the annual religious feast.

RETREAT

Youth Council had a retreat April 7 to 9 for all members. The retreat was held at Sugarpine with many activities each day such as awareness walks, hootenanny and conversation times.

Theme of the retreat was awareness. This will be an all-around fun weekend for the whole group.

A square dance will make Saturday, April 15 a swinging night. Grab your partners or come by yourself. Admission is 75-cents per person and $1.25 per couple.

See you all at 8 p.m. at St. Lucy's Kennelly Hall, on the corner of Budd and Winchester.

FLEA MARKET

Want to flee to the Flea Market May 20 and 21? Spaces are $2.50 and $4 for both days. Those interested in setting up a booth may phone 378-7893.

We open at 10 a.m. both days. There will be good food, fun and people, so come!

We serve coffee and donuts the first Sunday of every month, but because of Easter we will enjoy them on Sunday, April 16, instead.

Please come and join us, and don't forget our other activities.

Kirkwood hosts flea market for no-profit clubs

Activity on Saturday, April 15, at the Kirkwood Plaza, Campbell Ave. at San Tomas Road, will center around their first annual flea market, which will begin at 9 a.m.

Restricted to non-profit groups, the market-place will feature junk items, second-hand clothing, homemade goods and odds and ends. It will be located near the Royal Fork Restaurant.

No fees are charged to the vendors and the public is invited to browse and buy until the closing hour at 5 p.m.

In 1877, a plague of locusts was so severe that it halted covered wagon trains bound for Western States.
